ABOUT THE MARYLAND RESPONDS MRC

The Maryland Responds Medical Reserve Corps (MRC) is a community-based, civilian, volunteer program that helps build the public health infrastructure and response capabilities of Maryland communities. The Maryland Responds MRC Network consists of dedicated Responders who stand ready to volunteer their skills, expertise and time to support ongoing public health initiatives and assist during emergencies.

The Maryland Responds MRC Network Program is composed of the State Program, which is housed within the Maryland Department of Health (MDH), Office of Preparedness and Response (OP&R), and 24 Local Units housed within Local Health Departments throughout the State. State and local MRC unit administrators work together to organize and train Maryland Responders to address a wide range of challenges from public health education to disaster response.

The Maryland Responds MRC is part of the National MRC Network which comprises 900+ community-based units and over 200,000 volunteers located throughout the United States and its territories. To learn more about the National MRC Network, visit: <https://mrc.hhs.gov/HomePage>.
